

Scientific Animal Husbandry Camp at Bhawanipur Anchalik College

A two-day workshop on “Scientific Animal Husbandry Training Camps” was organized on 16th and 17th November at Bhawanipur Anchalik College. The event was a collaborative effort between the Assam Veterinary and Poultry Association and the Extension Education Cell of the college.

The programme was presided over by Mr. Manas Kumar Chakraborty, Principal of Bhawanipur Anchalik College, who also delivered the welcome address. Dr. Dibakar Baruah, Veterinary Officer, inaugurated the workshop by outlining its objectives. Special guest Mr. Manoranjan Das, former MLA of the Bhawanipur constituency, graced the occasion with his presence.

Dr. Manoj Saikia, Chairman of the Assam Veterinary and Poultry Association, welcomed and thanked all attendees. The workshop featured a panel of expert resource persons, including Dr. Rafikul Islam Ahmed, Dr. Hidul Lal Das, Dr. Dibakar Baruah, and Dr. Tanmay Medhi - all esteemed Veterinary Officers from the association. They delivered insightful and informative talks on various aspects of scientific animal husbandry.

The workshop saw enthusiastic participation from 135 attendees, contributing to the overall success of the event.
